Personal & Ministry Update

The winter months were busy for us as we flew to PA to celebrate a late Christmas with our family. While there, we were able to have three meetings: one at our sending church, Mt. Zion, to report on the first four months of our ministry; one at Grace Baptist Church in Oxford, PA – Pastor Steve Rogers, and a final one at Maranatha Baptist Church in Elkton, MD – Pastor Kevin Scoggins. What wonderful fellowship with God’s servants!

Randy was able to complete a goal in writing a special tract for RVers whom we meet along the way. Kevin Unger published these for us, and we have been handing them out everywhere we go.

BIG PHAE - Frequently Asked Questions

Since many of you remain curious about our RV travels, here are a couple of FAQs that seem to come up wherever we go.

Q: How do you learn to live in an RV?

A: You attend a 3 day RV boot camp which teaches you all about the systems, safety, operations, etc. Lucy also took 7 hours of driving lessons and can now give some driving relief during long travel days. We have even practiced climbing out our “19x29” bedroom window in case of a fire! What a sight!

Q: Can an RV be overweight and damage the tires?

A: Yes, because the tires are your house’s foundation. So, after boot camp, we had a “Smart Weigh” done. The whole house is weighed, and then each tire. We thought for sure we would be overweight due to the books and instruments we carry, but we weighed in fine! That was an answer to prayer.

Lucy Caper

Since we had an appointment at a Camping World to fix all of our little leaks, an unyielding jack, and a bushing in the electric bay, we didn’t fill our water tank. I mean, Camping World always has water and electricity, don’t they? Plus they said we could spend the night, right? Much to our dismay, after pulling into the parking lot, we discovered that Camping World had no water or electricity! Well, now what do we do? We have no water! Mrs. Lucy to the rescue! She remembered that the Lucy’s had 2 gallons of distilled water plus a few water bottles in Little J (the jeep). So, she took those into the motorhome. Then, they could run their generator for lights. So all was well, except there would be no showers! Oh no! And they were supposed to meet someone for supper in El Paso. Mr. Lucy took a cup of water and wet his hair, then shampooed it, then another cup of water and rinsed it! Baby wet ones finished off his old-time bath! You just haven’t experienced life until you have a baby wet one bath!!! Makes you feel so very pampered!!!!
